DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-28 and 34 are currently pending in the instant application and are subject to a Restriction Requirement.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

Lack of Unity Requirement

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

Applicant is required to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention (which will be rejoined with the pending compound claims) to which the claims must be restricted:

- Invention I, Claims 1-6 (in part), 7-13, and 21-28 and 34 (in part), drawn to compounds of the formula of Claim 1 [wherein L is (II)], their compositions, and their methods of use. A further election of a single disclosed compound is required if this group is elected.
- Invention II, Claims 1-6 (in part), 14-20, and 21-28 and 34 (in part), drawn to compounds of the formula of Claim 1 [wherein L is (III)] , their compositions, and their methods of use. A further election of a single disclosed compound is required if this group is elected.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Upon thorough consideration of the claims, the examiner has determined that a lack of unity of invention exists, as defined in Rule 13. PCT Rule 13.1 states that the international application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept ("requirement of unity of invention"). PCT Rule 13.2 states that unity of invention referred to in Rule 13.1 shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. Annex B, Part 1(a), indicates that the application should relate to only one invention, or if there is more than one invention, inclusion is permitted if they are so linked to form a single general inventive concept. Annex B, Part 1(b), indicates that "special technical features" means those technical features that as a whole define a contribution over the prior art. Annex B, Part 1(c), further defines independent and dependent claims. Unity of invention only is concerned in relation to independent claims. Dependent claims are defined as a claim that contains all the features of another claim and is in the same category as the other claim. The category of a claim refers to the classification of claims according to subject matter, e.g. product, process, use, apparatus, means, etc. Annex B, Part 1(e), indicates the permissible combinations of different categories of claims. Part 1(e)(i) states that inclusion of an independent claim for a given product, an independent claim for a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an independent claim for a use of the said product is permissible. Annex B, Part 1(f) indicates the "Markush practice" of alternatives in a single claim. Part 1(f(i)) indicates the technical interrelationship and the same or corresponding special technical feature is considered to be met when: (A) all alternatives have a common property or activity, and (B) a common structure is present or all alternatives belong to a recognized class of chemical compounds. Further defining (B) in Annex B, Part 1(f(i-iii)), the common structure must: a) occupy a large portion of their structure, or b) the common structure constitutes a structurally distinctive portion, or c) where the structures are equivalent and therefore a recognized class of chemical compounds, each member could be substituted for one another with the same intended result. That is, with a common or equivalent structure, there is an expectation from knowledge in the art that all members will behave in the same way. Thus, the technical relationship and the corresponding special technical feature result from a common (or equivalent) structure that is responsible for the common activity (or property). Part 1(f(iv)) indicates that when all alternatives of a Markush grouping can be differently classified, it shall not, taken alone, be considered justification for finding a lack of unity. Part 1(f(v)) indicates that when dealing with alternatives, it can be shown that at least one Markush alternative is not novel over the prior art, the question of unity of invention shall be reconsidered, but does not imply that an objection shall be raised.

The claims herein lack unity of invention under PCT Rule 13.1 and 13.2, since the compounds defined in the claims lack a significant structural element qualifying as the special technical feature that defines a contribution over the prior art. The compounds claimed contain the following technical feature, common to each of the claims:

or

(III)

, which does not define a contribution over the prior art (variables excluded). U.S. Patent No. 5,225,434 discloses the structure:

which meets the limitations of Applicant's technical feature. Thus, Applicant's technical feature cannot be considered a 'special technical feature' as defined in PCT Rule 13.2, since it fails to define a contribution over the prior art, as it was known in the art prior to the filing of the instant application.

A cursory search of Invention I yielded 1298 structures in 331 references. A cursory search of Invention II yielded 15 structures in 13 references.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of an Invention (and election of a species for search purposes) to be examined even if the requirement is traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
